

Ohio's Mission: Lifeline EMS Award Recipients

EMS agencies play a significant role in optimizing STEMI Systems of Care. One of the goals of the American Heart Association's Mission: Lifeline EMS program is to recognize EMS agencies for their contributions through collaboration with each other, Medical First Responders, and STEMI Receiving and Referring Centers, thereby improving the entire STEMI system of care.

Mission: Lifeline EMS Recognition is completed through an online submission of data for three recognition measures:

1. % 12 Lead ECG acquired on patients 35 years of age or over who have the chief complaint of non-traumatic chest pain
2. % First Medical Contact to PCI in 90 minutes or less
3. % Arrival to STEMI Referring Center to Fibrinolytic Administration in 30 minutes or less

Below is the list of the 57 EMS agencies – up from 44 last year – who are the recipients of the American Heart Association's Mission: Lifeline EMS awards for 2016.

Congratulations to all for your hard work and dedication to making a safer Ohio!
